

82%

of respondents believe that the United States should be doing more to prevent homelessness.

